CME Outfitters Set to Deliver Anxiety Disorders Association of America (ADAA) Symposia
Symposia at 27th Annual Conference to focus on bipolar disorder and depression in patients with anxiety
February 12, 2007

Rockville, MD— CME Outfitters, LLC, (CMEO) an independent accredited provider of multidisciplinary continuing education programming and related healthcare communications services, has been selected by the Anxiety Disorders Association of America (ADAA) to develop and conduct educational symposia at the group's 27th Annual Conference beginning March 29, 2007, in St. Louis.

ADAA's Annual Conference is the only continuing education event dedicated exclusively to professionals interested in treatment and research related to anxiety and comorbid disorders. The 2007 Annual Conference will feature more than 50 seminars, symposia, and workshops on the diagnosis, treatment, and management of anxiety and concurrent disorders such as depression, bipolar disorder, and eating and sleep disorders.

CMEO was selected on the basis of its core focus in neuroscience education and strong relationships with key opinion leaders in mental health. The two CMEO-developed symposia will feature world-class thought leaders on the following topics:

- Understanding Research to Maximize Treatment Outcomes in Patients with Anxiety and Depression

Faculty: Philip R. Muskin, MD (Chair)
Columbia University

H. Blair Simpson, MD, PhD
Columbia University

Sharon Alspector Mozian, MD
Columbia University

Madhukar Trivedi, MD
University of Texas Southwestern

- Achieving Wellness in Patients with Bipolar Disorder and Comorbid Anxiety

Faculty: Robert M. A. Hirschfeld, MD (Chair)
University of Texas Medical Branch

Karen Wagner, MD, PhD
University of Texas Medical Branch

Keming Gao, MD, PhD
Case Western Reserve University

The Anxiety Disorders Association of America is the leading national, non-profit organization dedicated to the early diagnosis, treatment, and cure of anxiety disorders. ADAA encourages professional development through the support and dissemination of research and continuing education. ADAA offers free educational information and resources on anxiety disorders, local treatment providers, self-help groups, self-tests, clinical trials, and more. ADAA is the unified voice for anxiety disorders and promotes the message that anxiety disorders are real, serious, and treatable.

CME Outfitters develops and distributes live, recorded, print, and web-based certified educational activities to thousands of clinicians each year and offers expert accreditation services for non-accredited organizations.
